Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 26 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Wet start Boxing Day, drier some brighter spells later. Milder.

Today:
Rain, some heavy, gradually clearing eastwards through the morning. Cloud should break to allow some brighter spells into the afternoon. There will still be a few showers, these heavy near the coast, but becoming mostly dry by evening. Turning milder. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
It should become mostly dry overnight but in light winds there will be extensive areas of low cloud, giving mist and fog in places. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Monday:
Further rain and freshening winds will spread east through the morning, some heavy, giving a wet afternoon and evening. Remaining mild. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Tuesday, rather cloudy with some showers, drier later. Dry start Wednesday, then a spell of heavy rain, becoming windy but milder. Thursday, windy but very mild, some further rain likely.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.